Kindergarten-Grade 3-In this episode, Mr. Putter and Tabby go to Mrs. Teaberry's house to make soup because their old stove, Bessie, is on the fritz. Her dog Zeke complicates things for them, for he is determined that the guests play with him, but in the end, they enjoy the best soup they have ever tasted. The chapters are short and satisfying, and new readers will enjoy Howard's cartoon illustrations. The antics of Tabby and Zeke will entertain young animal enthusiasts. K-Gr. 2. From the format to the gently comic story to the cozy, freewheeling artwork, everything works in this twelfth book in Rylant's series about grandfatherly Mr. Putter and his favorite companion, his orange-colored tabby cat. Mr. P. is all set to make soup, but his stove, Bessie, isn't cooperating. His sweet, elderly neighbor, Mrs. Teaberry, offers her cooker while she goes out for the day, but Mrs. Teaberry's dog, Zeke, has plans for the surprised houseguests--and they don't involve cooking. Tender, funny, and absolutely delicious. Stephanie ZvirinCopyright © American Library Association. All rights reserved --This text refers to an out of print or unavailable edition of this title.

We've borrowed all of the Mr. Putter and Tabby books from our local library and Mr. Putter & Tabby Stir the Soup is one of my three (now four) year olds favorites. When we first read this book, she belly laughed out loud and requested this particular book be read over and over. I ended up purchasing this book for her birthday and a few weeks before the big day we were riding in the car and she asked if we could go by the library again to check out this book giving me a full recount of the storyline after returning it several weeks prior. We ended up giving her this particular birthday gift early.

I love all Mr Putter and Tabby books. The art work is beautiful and Mr Putter always seems to enjoy his adventures with Tabby, Zee and Mrs Teaberry

My 6-year-old daughter loves the Mr. Putter and Tabby books... They're so colorful and humorous... There's nothing like a child being encouraged to read because the content of the book is so entertaining! We have several in the series and are so happy with being able to have a fun collection from which she can pick and choose for any occasion. After a while, Mr. Putter, Tabby, Mrs. Teaberry and Zeke all start to feel like family :)

This is my 2nd copy of "Stir the Soup" First one got left behind when my grandson took it to Arizona when he visited his other grandparents. It is a favorite and we had to have another. This is the most wonderful series for young children. We have every one in the series and are waiting on the newest one to arrive. Rylant is also the author of the Henry and Mudge series and the Poppleton series which are great, as well as several other books - I believe a series for children a little older.

Sweet and funny. Doesn't disappoint. It looks a bit small on the Kindle though, not allowing a full enough view of the delightful images.

Great book! My 5-yr old granddaughter loves it! Made her laugh out loud the whole way through it!

If you've ever had a dog that was a little on the neurotic side this book will have you laughing out loud! It is so much fun and I highly recommend it, along with the whole series to anyone. We give it as a gift frequently and it is always a hit! Enjoy!

My mother-in-law gave my son a Mr. Putter book that was being discarded from her elementary school library, and my soon to be 3-year old loved it so much I've bought almost every Mr. Putter and Tabby book that's out there. We pick out one Mr. Putter book to read each night. All the books have very sweet, enduring stories of friendship, and they've introduced him to what "chapters" are in books.
