L. A. Meyer (1942–2014) was the acclaimed writer of the Bloody Jack Adventure series, which follows the exploits of an impetuous heroine who has fought her way up from the squalid streets of London to become an adventurer of the highest order. Mr. Meyer was an art teacher, an illustrator, a designer, a naval officer, and a gallery owner. All of those experiences helped him in the writing of his curious tales of the beloved Jacky Faber. I know this series of books is promoted as juvenile, but I'm no juvenile and I think this series is great. I read the whole series a few years ago and enjoyed it immensely. I am now looking forward to reading through it again, starting with this three volume package.
