easy instructions, if you have any hand sewing at all you can do this. The hard part is finding all the specialized equipment. I keep the silk ribbons in a special box and the tools in another.....that way the scissors don't get used by others in the house who have a tendency to grab mom's scissors for art projects, and all you sewing mom's out there what a disaster that can be on your fabric or ribbon scissors.

Interesting book and very helpful.

Helen Gibb is a leader in this technique. I also bought a DVD to go with the books because I tend to be more of a visual learner but the book and DVD enhance one another. I have bought the half doll and I'm in the process of gathering materials to start this project.

What a lovely book. I will be on my coffee table forever.

I used to watch this lady on the Carol Duvall show. I loved that show! Helen Gibbs made the ribbon flowers look so easy to make. She has wonderful insight about how to instruct, in person and in her magazine. You might not do it perfectly the first time around, but you will the second.
